32 ASCHAM (Roger)—Whole Works, now first collected and revised, with Life of the Author, by the Rev. Dr Giles, 4 vols (pub 5.00) 1865

Roger Ascham, 1515-1568; 'His "Toxiphillus," a Defence of Archery, was published in 1545, and was dedicated to Henry VIII. Apart from other merits, its pure style ranks it as an English Classic. In 1548 he was tutor to the Princess Elizabeth, and afterwards Ambassador's Secretary to the Court of Charles V.; later Latin Secretary to Edward VI. and to Mary. After Mary's death Elizabeth retained him at Court in the double capacity of Secretary and Tutor. His principal work, "The Schoolmaster," a treatise on Classical Education, was published in 1570. His admirable Latin and English letters, 295 in number, are included in Dr Giles' excellent edition of his works.'

33 ASHTON (John)—Modern Street Ballads, collected and edited, with 57 Illustrations, engraved in facsimile of the originals, Humour, Wit, and Satire of the Seventeenth Century, with nearly 100 Illustrations, engraved in facsimile of the originals, A History of the Chap Books of the Eighteenth Century, with nearly 400 illustrations engraved in facsimile of the originals; together, 3 vols (pub 5.50) 1882-88

34 ASHTON (John)—Real Sailor-Songs (200 illustrations), collected and edited by John Ashton, author of 'A Century of Ballads,' 'Romances of Chivalry,' &c. Folio, half parchment, gilt, edges untrimmed, (pub 5.00) 1891

'A magnificent volume, profusely illustrated with the quaintest old woodcuts imaginable. Many of these songs—originally sold in the streets—are reprinted in their pristine narrow form, being separately mounted on brown paper slips or guards. The book is a monument of research, and a triumph of the typographic art.'—Daily Telegraph.

35 ASHTON (J.)—History of English Lotteries, now for the first time written, by John Ashton, illustrated with numerous reproductions of humorous lottery bills, &c. 8vo, original linen binding, edges untrimmed (pub 3.00) 1893

A book of absorbing interest about a subject which at one time had as great a charm for the English people as betting has to-day.

36 ASHTON (John)—Social England under the Regency, Library Edition, with 90 illustrations. 2 vols, 8vo (pub 7.50) 1890

'The result of conscientious and most thorough work.'—Saturday Review.

37 ASHTON (John)—Varia, illustrated with numerous quaint engravings. 8vo (pub 2.50) 1894

'Makes, as usual, amusing reading. . . Altogether, more pretentious works than this would find it much harder to justify their existence.'—Athenæum.

38 ASTRONOMICAL MYTHS based on Flammarion's 'History of the Heavens,' by John F. Blake, numerous illustrations, also Espin (F.H.E.C.) Elementary Star Atlas, a series of 12 Star Maps, with Descriptive Letterpress; together, 2 vols (pub 2.50) 1877-85

39 AUBREY (John, the Wiltshire Antiquary)—Miscellanies, New Edition, with Additions and Index, and Sir T. Browne's Hydriotaphia or Urn Burial, portrait and woodcuts; Camden (W.)—Remains Concerning Britain: Their Languages, Names, Surnames, Allusions, Anagrammes, Armories, Moneys, Impresses, Apparel, Artillerie, Wife-Speeches, Proverbs, Poesies, Epitaphs; portrait; together, 2 vols (pub 2.50) 1870-90

40 AUDSLEY (W. and G.)—Polychromatic Decoration as applied to Buildings in the Mediæval Styles, 36 folio plates, in colours and gold, with Descriptive Letterpress, including the Principles of Decorative Design and Colouring, folio (pub 15.00) 1882

41 AVIANUS, The Fables of edited, with Prolegomena, Critical Apparatus, Commentary, Excursus, and Index, by R. Ellis, 8vo (pub 2.00) 1887

42 BACCHANTE—The Cruise of Her Majesty's Ship 'Bacchante,' 1879-1882. Compiled from the Private Journals, Letters, and Note-Books of Prince Albert Victor and Prince George of Wales, with Additions by the Rev. Canon Dalton, with map, plans, and illustrations, 2 vols, 8vo (pub 13.00) 1886

'A book over which it is a pleasure to linger.'—Times.

'The book is full of information artlessly offered, and moreover contains hundreds of bright pictures of distant or of historical scenes.'—Daily News.

BEST AND MOST RELIABLE WORK ON SOUTH AFRICA AND ITS GOLD-FIELDS.

- 43 BAINES (Thomas, F.R.G.S., Friend and Companion of Dr Livingstone during the famous Zambesi Expedition of 1858)—The Gold Regions of South-Eastern Africa, a Record of Travels, Adventures, and Explorations on the Zambesi, Matabililand, and the Transvaal Republic, with a Memoir of the Author by J. Hall, F.R.G.S., illustrated with a large folding map (in pocket) of the country between the Vaal and the Zambesi Rivers and the Gold Regions of Africa, with an inset map of the Cape Colonies, 16 woodcut engravings, and 3 full-page photographic plates. Portrait and facsimile of a Letter from Dr Livingstone, 8vo (pub 3.25) 1877
- 44 BAIRD (Henry M.)—The Huguenots and the Revocation of the Edict of Nantes. Best Library Edition, with maps and frontispiece, 2 vols, 8vo (pub 7.20) 1895
- 'He is a faithful, if a somewhat partial, chronicler of all the main events, which lie between the famous "Bath of Blood" at Vassy, with the consequent outbreak of the first civil war, and the St Bartholomew massacre, and he tells his story so well that he cannot fail to interest the reader.'—Saturday Review.
- 45 BALDWIN (J.)—The Book-Lover, a Guide to the Best Reading; and Montresor (C. A.)—Some Hobby Horses, or How to Collect Stamps, Coins, Seals, Crests, and Scraps, illustrated; together, 2 vols (pub 1.87) 1890-93
- 46 BALFOUR (Prof.)—Introduction to the Study of Palæontological Botany, plates; Quekett (J.)—Lectures on Histology, comprising Elementary Tissues of Plants and Animals, and Structure of the Skeleton of Plants and Invertebrate Animals, 423 woodcuts, 2 vols in 1; and Intellectual Observer, a Review of Natural History, Microscopic Research and Recreative Science, 80 coloured plates; together, 3 vols, 8vo (pub 10.00) 1852-72
- 47 BANCROFT (G.)—History of the United States, 7 vols, 12mo 1882

- 48 BANCROFT (H. H.)—Popular History of the Mexican People, during their Four Centuries of Recorded History, including the Mythological Epoch preceding it, profusely illustrated with wood engravings, including portraits, Archæological Remains, Architectural Antiquities, maps, plans, &c. 8vo (pub 3.60) 1888
- 'In the future, near or remote, no sensible man will doubt the value of the elaborate research which has now made the early portions of this history both accessible and comprehensible for all time.'—Nation.

STORIES FROM THE ITALIAN.

- 49 BANDELLO (Matteo)—Twelve Stories, selected and done into English after the manner of Boccaccio, with a Memoir of the Author by Percy Pinkerton, superbly printed in a large type on hand-made paper, square 8vo (pub 1.80) 1895
- 'Twelve novels of this author have been translated, and, with a good memoir of the pious bishop, given to the world in one of Mr Nimmo's goodly and appetising volumes. Inferior as these are to the tales of Boccaccio, they are at least equally free, and they are written with a great verve and very distinct narrative power. The tales are excellently translated, and constitute very agreeable reading.'—Notes and Queries.
- 50 BARBOUR (John, author of The Bruce 1395)—Collection of Legends of the Scottish National Poets, 2 vols; and a Collection of Old-English Legends, edited by C. Horstmann; together, 3 vols, 8vo, sewed (pub. 6.00) 1878-82

51 Baring-Gould (S.)—Lives of the Saints, Complete Set, 15 vols, crown 8vo, a Handsome Set (pub 25.00) 1882

'Mr Baring-Gould tells the most graceful legends in a style equally graceful and fascinating, and with a distinctiveness and elaboration of minute details which shows plainly that he is a consummate master of the poetic art. He has thus far accomplished a most arduous task most successfully.'—The Times.

'In its own line a compendium of valuable information. Beautifully, simply, and reverentially written, this edition of the 'Lives of the Saints' cannot fail to be productive of immense good, and we wish it the widest possible circulation.'—Dublin Review.

52 BARING-GOULD (S.)—Lives of the Saints, the volumes for February, March, April, May, June, July, August, September, November, and December, each volume complete in itself, and containing the Lives of the Saints appropriate to the month. 12 vols, crown 8vo 1878

53 BARING-GOULD (S.)—In Troubadour Land: A Ramble in Provence and Languedoc, with illustrations by J. E. Rogers, also Curiosities of Olden Times, Revised and Enlarged Edition; together 2 vols (pub 3.87) 1891-95

The style has the grace which comes by culture, and no small share of the eloquence bred of earnest conviction. Mr Bayliss writes as a man who, having seen much, has also read much, has also read and thought much on fine art questions. His views are therefore entitled to that respectful attention which the pleasant dress in which he has clothed them renders it all the easier to accord.'—Scotsman.

55 BEETON'S Dictionary of Industries and Commerce, including Accounts, Agriculture, Building, Banking, Engineering, Mechanism, Mining, Manufactures, Seamanship and Shipping, Steam Engines, and many other Practical and Useful Articles, with 300 explanatory woodcuts, Dictionary of Literature, Fine Arts, and Amusements, including Architecture, Looks of All Nations, Heraldry, Journalism, Music, Musical Instruments, Painting, Sculpture, and many other separate Subjects pertaining to Culture and General Information, with explanatory woodcuts; together, 2 vols royal 8vo (pub 3.60) n.d.

2 volumes (pub 7.25) 1888

Dr Bonavia seems to have so thoroughly exhausted research into the why and wherefore of oranges and lemons, that there can be but little left for the most enthusiastic admirer of this delicious fruit to find out about it. Plunging into Dr Bonavia's pages we are at once astonished at the variety of his subject and the wide field there is for research in an everyday topic. Dr Bonavia has given a very full appendix, in which may be found a few excellent recipes for confitures made from oranges and lemons.'—Pioneer.

True Records of Personal Experiences at Home and in India, with 15 full-page engravings and 37 illustrations throughout the text, 2 vols, crown 8vo (pub 5.00) 1893

'Mr Moray Brown's most recent work is a pleasant addition to the library of sport. The book is well turned out, the paper is good, the type is specially clear and distinct, and the binding is appropriate. The illustrations, too, deserve a word of praise: some of them—of which the "brace of longtails," "the woodcock," and "an old cock bird," are the type—seem to be as good as is possible on the scale used; whilst for clean drawing, "How can we shoot her" (Vol 1, page 279), is hard to beat. Altogether the two volumes are convenient and attractive.'—Athenæum.

- 109A Dodd's (Ch.)—Church History of England, printed on large paper, 5 vols, royal 8vo, half morocco extra, gilt tops 1839

The work of Hugh Tootle, better known under the assumed name of Charles Dodd, stands alone among the compilations of Catholic History. Commencing with the period of her first misfortunes in this country, the writer accompanies the ancient Church in all the vicissitudes of her course during the next two centuries. He marks the origin of the Reformation in the wayward passions of Henry; mourns, with religion, over the ruined altars and desecrated shrines of Edward's reign; watches their alternate rise and fall under the sister sovereigns, Mary and Elizabeth; traces the various calamities of his Catholic countrymen under the dynasty of the Stuarts, and closes his work with the closing fortunes of that unhappy family.

- 160 Dryden (John)—Complete Works, with Historical, Critical, and Explanatory Notes, by Sir Walter Scott, and Re-edited Notes and Appendices by George Saintsbury. Professor of English Literature at Edinburgh University, Large Paper, 18 vols (pub 45.00) 1882

'We dismiss these volumes with the confession that Dryden's neglected and forgotten plays, thus carefully annotated and edited by Prof. Saintsbury, do really grow upon us as they are read. We again see the life and action of the piece, the crowded and bustling stage, the wild gallants, and the damsels quite as wild whom they court.' Saturday Review.

195 GARDINER (Samuel Rawson)—History of England under the Duke of Buckingham and Charles I., 1624-1628, Library Edition, with Marginal Notes and Map, 2 vols, 8vo (pub 6.75) 1885

'That which strikes us as most noteworthy in this important contribution to English history is the clearness with which the book as a whole brings out a fact less habitually insisted upon than the constitutional significance of the Parliamentary struggles of those times. As the downfall of the personal authority of James I. had been due to the central and typical scheme of his foreign policy, so the failure of the foreign policy of Buckingham and Charles I. was an important element in the want of confidence which was the real cause of the overthrow of the Stuart monarchy.'—Saturday Review.

196 GEIKIE (Jas.)—Fragments of Earth Lore, Sketches and Addresses, Geological and Geographical, maps and illustrations; and Ramsay (Sir A. C.), Memoirs of, by Sir Archibald Geikie, portraits; together, 2 vols (pub 6.00) 1893-95

'We thought our popular embellished works had reached the ultimatum point; but no! Here is another, the elegance and scientific accuracy of which, in conjunction with its cheapness, is to us astonishing—the book only needs to be seen to be admired and coveted.'—Tail's Magazine.

- 219 HAMILTON (W.)—Parodies of the Works of English and American Authors, Collected and Annotated, the Second, Third, and Sixth Series each complete in itself. 3 vols, royal 8vo (pub 5.40) 1885-89

'We maintain that, far from converting virtue into a paradox, and degrading truth by ridicule, Parody will only strike at what is chimerical and false; it is not a piece of buffoonery so much as a critical exposition. What do we parody but the absurdities of writers, who frequently make their heroes act against nature, common-sense, and truth.'—Disraeli.

- 220 HOMER's Iliad and Odyssey, English Translations by Pope, with Notes by T. A. Buckley, and Illustrated with Flaxman's Celebrated Designs, Library Editions, 2 vols, 8vo (pub 3.50) 1891

'Such a work as this has long been needed, and it would be hard to find any one better qualified to prepare it than Mr Hughes. His "Notes on Muhammadanism," of which two editions have appeared, have proved decidedly useful to students of Islam, especially in India, and his long familiarity with the tenets and customs of Moslems has placed him in the best possible position for deciding what is necessary and what superfluous in a "Dictionary of Islam." The other article to which we refer with special emphasis is Mr F. Pincott on "Sikhism." There is something on nearly every page of the dictionary that will interest and instruct the students of Eastern religion, manners, and customs.'—Athenæum.
- 244 HUGO (Victor)—A Memoir and a Study, by James Cappon; Argenson (Marquis d', 1652-1721)—A Study in Criticism by Arthur Ogle, portrait; Murray (E. C. D.)—An Examination of the Claims of Ishmael as viewed by Mohammedans; together, 3 vols (pub 9.50) 1884-87

- 249 BEALE (Thomas William)—An Oriental Biographical Dictionary founded on materials collected. New Edition, revised and enlarged, royal 8vo (pub 7.00) 1894

'A complete biographical dictionary for a country like India, which in its long history has produced a profusion of great men, would be a vast undertaking. The suggestion here made only indicates the line on which the dictionary, at some future time, could be almost indefinitely extended, and rendered still more valuable as a work of reference. Great care has evidently been taken to secure the accuracy of all that has been included in the work, and that is of far more importance than mere bulk. The dictionary can be commended as trustworthy, and reflects much credit on Mr Keene. Several interesting lists of rulers are given under the various founders of dynasties.'—India.

- 284 Kirby (W. F.).—The Hero of Esthonia, and other Studies in the Roman Literature of that Country, Compiled from Esthonian and German Sources, with a Map of Esthonia, 2 vols (pub 5.00) 1895

In this work an account of the unique ancient literature and folk-lore of Esthonia is presented to English readers for the first time.

'There can be little doubt that lovers of folk-lore will read the amazing adventures of the hero with interest, and be reminded of several kindred stories in other legends. Mr Kirby furnishes a map of the country, and explains its characteristics for the benefit of those who have not visited it. In the copious index and glossary which he has supplied, the editor helps the reader to see many of the parallels in the folk-lore of other countries. It is not likely that many of our countrymen will feel inclined to go to the fontes of Esthonian lore. They will naturally content themselves with the highly readable work of Mr Kirby, who will tell them all that they want to know about the country, its people, and their traditions.'—Athenæum.

Murray, the Regent of Scotland, well knew the truth of that which he affirmed when he uttered over the Reformer's grave those memorable words, more quoted than any episode since the days of Cicero, "There lies he who never feared the face of man." Thomas Carlyle remarked that Knox's History of the Reformation was a glorious old book, which he hoped every one would read.

- 286 Lamb (Charles).—Works, Complete, edited with Notes by Percy Fitzgerald, the Beautiful Temple Edition, containing all the Pieces originally included in 'Moxon's Edition,' with Corrections, Additional Letters, and a Complete Series of (18) Portraits of Lamb, from 1798 to 1835, together with that of his Sister and many Friends, elegantly printed in a nice clear type, 6 vols, fcap 8vo (pub 6.00 net) 1897

'His works will be received as amongst the most elaborately finished gems of literature.'—DE QUINCEY.

- 287 Landor (Walter Savage, the celebrated Poet, Philosopher, Essayist, and Critic).—Works, Complete Collected Edition, comprising his Imaginary Conversations, Citation and Examination of Shakespeare, The Pentameron, Pericles and Aspasia, Minor Prose Pieces, and Poems, a Reprint of Moxon's Favourite Edition, beautiful portrait, 2 vols, royal 8vo (pub 3.60) 1895

312 MALORY (Sir Thomas)—La Mort d'Arthur: The History of King Arthur and of the Knights of the Round Table, edited from the text of the edition of 1634, with Introduction and Notes, by Thomas Wright, 3 vols (pub 3.60) 1889

Sir Thomas Malory, 1470: 'Sir Thomas Malory's work "is indisputably," says Scott, "the best prose romance the English language can boast of." It was due to an attempt to work up and give an epic unity and harmony to the whole mass of French Romance, and the result shows that its author was no slavish copyist or compiler merely, but that he turned much that was dross into pure gold, and stamped upon the whole the impress of our own individuality, as Shakespeare did with his Holinshed and Plutarch.'

313 MANYPENNY (G. W.)—Our Indian Wars, a Historical Sketch of the North American Indians, from the Earliest Times to the Present Day; Halde-

381 RENAN's History of the People of Israel, Best Library Edition, 3 vols, 8vo (pub 10.00) 1888

'We need only say that it is replete with signs that M. Renan is still in full possession of his unrivalled powers. We note the same delicacy of insight, the same breadth of sympathy, the same mastery of the varied resources of reflection and illustration. The strength of the illustrious author lies in recalling to life a history not only dead, but for the majority of us, buried beneath traditional misinterpretation. In his pages the dry bones of the vanished actors live. They also, as the reader will discover, speak, and with a message wholesome for these times.'—Athenæum.

382 RENAN and Strauss' Works in English, comprising The Song of Songs, or Song of Solomon; Studies in Religious History, First Series, Leaders of Christian and Anti-Christian Thought; Second Series, Religions of Antiquity; The Book of Ecclesiastes, or Cohelet, the Preacher, &c.; The Christian Church; and Strauss' Life of Jesus; in all, 6 vols, cr 8vo (pub 3.00) N.D.

Moriarty, Balliol College, Oxford, Large Paper Edition, with 9 portraits after Lely, Kneller, Rigaud, Jervas, Aikman, and others; together, 3 vols, imp 8vo, Roxburgh binding, gilt tops (pub 15.00) 1892-94

Impression on large paper limited to 150 copies, and numbered.

384 Ridpath's History of the World, being an Account of the Principal Events in the Career of the Human Race, from the Beginning of Civilisation to the Present Time, from recent and authentic sources, by John Clark Ridpath, LL.D., Edition-de-Luxe, profusely illustrated with Maps, Charts, Sketches, Portraits, and Diagrams, the frontispiece plates being Proofs on India Paper, handsomely printed on heavy calendered paper, 8 vols, 4to (pub 75.00) N.D.

A grand Cyclopædia of Universal History, specially prepared as an 'Edition of Elegance,' with particular reference to what may be called the æsthetics of book production. The author's position as Professor of History in Du Pauw University eminently qualified him for his task; and the wealth of illustration in this handsome edition not only adds to its intrinsic value, but aids materially in popularising it.

Beautifully printed in Old English Type on Whatman's hand-made paper, 8vo boards, antique style, edges uncut (pub 10.00) 1891 Impression limited to 300 copies, each numbered.
- There is no work, in short, in the department of prose fiction which contains more apothegmatic wisdom than the Arcadia of Sidney; and it is to be regretted that the volume which had charmed a Shakespeare, a Milton, and a Waller and which has been praised by Temple, by Heylin, and by Cowper, should be suffered, in any deference to the opinion of Lord Oxford, to slumber on the shelf."—DR DRAKE.
- 419 SIMSON (Alfred)—Travels in the Wilds of Ecuador and the Exploration of the Putunayo River, map; Mackham (Clements R.)—The War between Chili and Peru, 1879-82, map; and Vincent (F.)—Around and About South America, Twenty Months of Quest and Query, illustrated; together, 3 vols (pub 9.50) 1883-90

- 432 'STEPNIAK'S King Stork and King Log: A Study of Modern Russia, 2 vols cr. 8vo (pub 3.60) 1896
'No work ever recognised with more frankness the difficulties in the path of a cause. But it will possibly satisfy most minds that the present system cannot resist the progress of its own organic diseases, and that the cause to which Stepniaik devoted a noble life cannot be regarded as hopeless.'—Newcastle Chronicle.
- 433 STERNE'S (Laurence)—Complete Works, Best Library Edition, with a Life of the Author, edited by James P. Browne, M.D., with portrait from painting by Reynolds, and illustrations by Thomas Stothard, R.A.; 4 vols, 8vo 1885
- 434 Stevenson's Edinburgh in the Olden Time, a Series of Sixty-Three Drawings, Views of Streets, Public Buildings, and other Remains of Antiquity within the City of Edinburgh, its Suburbs, and Leith, between the years 1717 and 1828 (which were collected by John Sime), Reproduced in Atlas Facsimile, edited by Thomas George Stevenson, folio, half morocco extra, gilt top (pub 22.00 to subscribers) 1880
The impression of this book was strictly limited to 350 copies, each one of which is numbered.
There is not perhaps a city in Europe that offers to the lover of picturesque scenery and to the historian a more interesting series of subjects for the pencil and pen than Edinburgh.
- 435 STEVENSON (Rev.)—The Legend and Commemorative Celebrations of Saint Kentigern, his Friends and Disciples, translated from the Aberdeen Breviary and the Arbutnott Missal, with an Illustrative Appendix consisting of Notices of the Lives of Saints Thenew, Kentigern, Servanus, Columba, Asaph, Baldred, Cornwall, and Palladius, Large Paper Edition, small 4to, half morocco, printed for private circulation only, the impression being limited to 200 copies 1874
'Anything about St Kentigern and his contemporaries must be interesting to students of Ecclesiastical History. To the citizens of Glasgow and the surrounding districts it must be specially interesting, and yet few of us have any but a very hazy notion of who he was and what he did. The Lives and Legends of the early Scottish Saints are less generally known and appreciated than they deserve. As illustrations of local history they are invaluable.
- 436 STORY (W. W.)—Nero, a Dramatic Poem founded on the Story of the Emperor Nero as recorded by the Ancient Writers; also, Vallombrosa, a Vivid Description of the Apennines; Worsley (P. S.)—Poems and Translations, edited by E.  'It is almost impossible—and, alas! now useless as regards the writer—to praise this book too highly. It is a clever, sincere, and painstaking contribution to the making of modern history, and all students of constitutional and parliamentary history will find much to interest and instruct them in these able volumes. In all the minor matters of references, indexing, and printing, every care has been taken. Indeed, all is praiseworthy, and the pity is that the writer should have passed away without receiving the thanks of students.'—St James's Budget.

'Mr Wilfrid Ward's book is as rich as its predecessor in pointed anecdote and motifs. The biographer is to be congratulated upon the conclusion of a work at once so informative in topics of theological and philosophical controversy, and so copiously illustrative of life and character of his remarkable parent.'—Times.

- 463 WEBSTER (John)—Dramatic Works, edited, with Notes, &c., by William Hazlitt, 4 vols (pub 5.00) 1857

This is the most complete edition, containing two more plays than in Dyce's edition.

'John Webster, one of the great names of English Tragedy, was alive and writing for the stage between the years 1602 and 1624. But beyond this all is conjecture; when and where he was born and died it is impossible to ascertain. . . . Webster, in Mr Swinburne's happy phrase, "found his first recognition at the pious and fortunate hands of Charles Lamb." Since then he has been praised to reverence by various masters of criticism, and his name claimed by enthusiastic writers as the next in tragic art to Shakespeare's.'

- 464 WENCKSTERN (Fr. Von)—A Bibliography of the Japanese Empire, being a Classified List of all Books, Essays, and Maps in European languages relating to Dai Nihon (Great Japan), published in Europe, America and in the East from 1859 to 1893. To which is added a facsimile-reprint of: Leon Pagès—Bibliographie Japonaise depuis le XV^e siècle jusqu'à 1859, royal 8vo 1895

The main part of the work has been made up of the large bibliographies by Polle, Taschenberg, Orientalische Bibliographie, Trubner's Record, &c., the extracts of which have been carefully checked by cross references with the 'Catalogue of Scientific Papers' and similar works.

- 465 WHARTON (Grace and Philip)—Queens of Society, and Wits and Beaux of Society, Library Edition, with a New Preface by Justin H. McCarthy, M.P., and the original illustrations by C. A. Doyle, in 4 vols, 8vo (pub 9.00) 1890

- 466 WHITELOCKE'S (Sir B.)—Memorials of English Affairs, from the beginning of the Reign of Charles I. to the Restoration of Charles II., Best Edition, 4 vols, 8vo (pub 7.50) 1853

'Let me remark in passing how much England has been beholden to four great men, who have possessed the highest dignity of the law—More, Bacon, Clarendon, and Whitelocke.'

- 467 WILSON (Sir Daniel)—Memorials of Edinburgh in the Olden Time, giving a Complete Account of the History and Antiquities of the Scottish Metropolis, New Edition, with Extensive Alterations and Additions, and with fresh illustrations from the Author's drawings, handsomely illustrated with a large folding facsimile bird's-eye view of Edinburgh in 1647, by James Gordon of Rothiemay, 41 highly-finished steel engravings, and nearly 100 beautifully executed woodcuts throughout the Text, depicting the old Historic Mansions of the Scotch Nobility, famous Buildings and Landmarks, now fast disappearing, and the Antiquarian Remains of Edinburgh and its Neighbourhood, 2 vols, 4to (pub 2.58) 1891

'The book is being produced in a manner that leaves nothing to be desired.'—Scotsman.

'The work is one which the bibliophile will value as much for its material excellence as the antiquary for its equal lore.'—Glasgow Herald.

- 468 WILSON (Dr Andrew)—Health for the People; Wynter (A.)—Borderlands of Insanity, revised by Dr J. Mortimer Granville; Moffat (W.)—Land and Work; and Lupton (J. I. and J. M. K.)—Pedestrian's Record, with 6 double-page plates and upwards of 100 figures; together, 4 vols (pub 5.00) 1877-90

- 471 WITHER (George)—Hymns and Songs of the Church, with the Musical Notes, composed by Orlando Gibbons; Hallelujah, or Britain's Second Remembrances, in Praiseful and Penitential Hymns, Spiritual Songs and Moral Odes, edited with Introductions by Edward Farr, portraits; together, 2 vols (pub 2.50) 1857-95

A HANDSOME AND ARTISTIC VOLUME.

- 472 Women—A Vision of Fair Women. Tributes to Beauty by Poets and Painters. Containing Pieces by Tennyson, Wordsworth, Shakespeare, Burns, Shelley, Herrick, etc. etc., and illustrated with 11 photo-peintures (coloured plates), 7 photogravures, 8 etchings, and 50 full-page wood engravings, by Sir J. E. Millais, Sydney, P. Hall, Hoppner, J. Ralston, Adelaide Claxton, H. Leask, Kaulbach, Pestalozzi, Seymour, Lucas, etc. The Poems beautifully printed by Dalziel Bros., roy 4to, elegantly bound in specially designed cloth 1890

- 473 Wordsworth's Poetical Works and Life, Best Library Edition, by William Knight, LL.D., Professor of Moral Philosophy at St Andrews, with beautiful portrait and etchings, 11 vols, royal 8vo (pub 40.00) 1882-89

'We welcome this edition as the greatest boon to the students of Wordsworth which Professor Knight could have bestowed, and we shall look eagerly forward to the publication of the remaining volumes, and especially of the life of the Poet, with which it is to be concluded. Mr Knight could not by any possibility have done his work better.'—Spectator.

- 474 WORDSWORTH'S Life, by Professor Knight, with portrait, 3 vols, imperial 8vo (pub 12.00) 1889

- 475 WORDSWORTH (Bishop)—Shakespeare's Historical Plays, Roman and English, with Revised Texts, Introductions, and Notes, Glossarial, Critical, and Historical, 3 vols, crown 8vo (pub 5.25) 1893

'This is one, and the best we have seen, of the so-called pure text editions of Shakespeare. . . . The introductions are uniformly excellent. . . . The explanatory notes are short, clear, and always to the point.'—Whitehall Review.

- 476 WORLD (The): Its Cities and Peoples, being a Popular Description of the Principal Cities of the Globe, and the Characteristics, Manners, and Customs of the Human Family, by Edwin Hodder and Robert Brown, with upwards of 60 full-page plates, numerous engravings in the text, and coloured maps, 9 vols in 3, imp 8vo, half-morocco (pub 20.00) 1886

From the Eskimo struggling in the ice-bound regions of the North, to the Negro under the Tropical sun of Central Africa, and the rude Australian disappearing before the civilisation of the South, the peoples of the world are sketched in all their interesting relations to other nations and tribes, &c.

- 477 WRANGHAM (Rev. Digby S., M.A.)—Adam of St Victor—Liturgical Poetry of Adam St Victor, from the Text of Gautier, with Translations into English in the Original Metres, and Short Explanatory Notes, beautifully printed on thick hand-made paper, 3 vols, 8vo (pub 5.00) 1881

- 478 WYOLIF (John)—Select English Works, Best Edition, edited from Original MS., by Thomas Arnold, 3 vols, 8vo (pub 5.00) 1871

'These volumes should be welcome to every student of theology and history in England. It is creditable to the Oxford Delegates to have at last produced them; and we feel grateful to Mr Arnold for his five years' labour upon them. . . . We know no name worthier than that of Arnold to be coupled with the name of John Wyolif.'—Athenæum.

- 479 WASHINGTON (George), Life, by Washington Irving, Geoffrey Crayon Edition, beautifully printed in large type, on thick paper, and illustrated with 4 fine steel portraits, 65 full-page and smaller engravings, including portraits of his contemporaries, maps and plans, 5 vols sq 8vo (pub 15.00) 1881-82

'In the meantime, there can be no impropriety in our remarking that the biographer has well merited the gratitude of his countrymen for transporting the illustrious commander from the learned austerity of the Senate-Chamber, and the chilling dignity of Congressional Libraries, to the domestic familiarity of the parlour and the winter evening fireside of the cottage.'—Allibone.
